

WRITTEN QUESTION E-0175/09

by Mario Borghezio (UEN) and Erminio Enzo Boso (UEN)
to the Commission

Subject: CAI-Alitalia monopoly on the Milan Linate - Rome route

Does the Commission not think that the monopoly enjoyed by CAI-Alitalia on the Milan Linate - Rome route represents a clear case of unfair competition, especially as the route in question is known to be one of the most profitable air routes in Europe?
