

WRITTEN QUESTION E-1061/09
by Jim Allister (NI)
to the Commission

Subject: Family courts

Is the Commission aware of a prevalent perception across Member States that fathers are often disadvantaged in family courts, particularly in custody and contact cases, and, in consequence, has any research been commissioned or a view taken on these issues, not least from the human rights perspective?