by Daniel Hannan (NI)
to the Commission

Subject: Property rights of displaced Greek Cypriots in northern Cyprus

The European Union has issued several resolutions relating to the status of property owned by Greek Cypriots in northern Cyprus; but there is also property in the territory controlled by the Republic of Cyprus which is owned by Turkish Cypriots, many of whom experience great difficulty in transferring the deeds.

Will the Commission confirm that this, too, is a breach of the European Treaties?

What plans does the Commission have to facilitate the security of property rights of displaced Turkish Cypriots?
