

WRITTEN QUESTION E-1591/09
by Gary Titley (PSE)
to the Commission

Subject: Validity of car warranties

A constituent has complained to me that a major car company has refused to repair his car under warranty because it would only recognise work that had been done by a VAT-registered company which used the original manufacturer's spare parts. Is this correct?