

Question for written answer E-010216/2010
to the Commission
Rule 117
Alan Kelly (S&D)

Subject: Mobile phone black spots

With access to a high level of communications being a cornerstone of any business, especially for those businesses located at the periphery of Europe, does the Commission have any proposals to tackle the issue of mobile phone 'black spots' throughout Europe? Is there any fund available to solve this problem?