

Question for written answer E-010219/2010
to the Commission
Rule 117
Alan Kelly (S&D)

Subject: Removing barriers in the single market

In Professor Monti's report on the new strategy for the single market he states that market fragmentation and regulatory barriers are hurdles to the future of the free market. Could the Commission provide a list of some of the major regulatory barriers in Ireland's case?