

Question for written answer E-010560/2013
to the Commission
Rule 117
Nuno Melo (PPE)

Subject: International trade - European Union and Gambia

The European Union is seen as one of the main promoters of international trade, in line with the principles of a state governed by the rule of law.

In this light, how does the Commission assess the results achieved through the specific trade partnerships set up between the European Union and Gambia?