to the Commission
Rule 117
Claude Moraes (S&D)

Subject: UK bedroom tax

A recent UN report on UK housing conditions has called for the immediate suspension of the 'bedroom tax' and for it to be fully evaluated in light of evidence highlighting its negative impacts, particularly on a huge number of vulnerable individuals and households.

Can the Commission state what action it has or will be taking in its role of supporting Member States in the implementation of welfare reforms to ensure that EU citizens are not discriminated?
