Subject: Union Standard for Border Management

While Member States have agreed on rules regarding border control, daily border management today varies from one Member State to another. This is the reason why the Commission announced a proposal on a 'Union Standard for Border Management' for 2016. According to the Commission, the aim is to secure a high and uniform standard in the control of all aspects of the Union's external borders.

Can the Commission give more precise details regarding the timetable envisaged for this new proposal?
