Subject: Enlarging the EU Emissions Trading System (ETS) to include Switzerland

Climate Commissioner Miguel Arias Cañete has announced an agreement to include Switzerland in the EU Emissions Trading System.

To get to this point, after seven years of negotiations, Switzerland had to give way in the face of reprisals inflicted by the EU on the Swiss people in the wake of the 2016 referendum on controlling immigration.

Do not efforts to regulate greenhouse gas emissions run counter to the multiplication of cross-continental free-trade agreements?
