Rule 138

Subject: Action plan on integration and inclusion for 2021-2027

The Action plan on integration and inclusion put forward by the Commission concerns both migrants and EU citizens with a migrant background, and attempts to provide evidence of the integration of these people into our societies.

The plan is quite formidable, as it wholeheartedly encourages mass immigration and demonstrates a complete blindness of the realities facing our society in terms of its capacity to fully integrate new peoples. It is a precursor to the new Pact on Migration and Asylum currently under negotiation.

There are two key themes which should have been addressed: on the one hand, how multiculturalism is clearly not working and, on the other, the fight against Islamism. However, no reference whatsoever is made to either of these two phenomena.

In view of the above:

1. What action does the Commission intend to take when people who are not willing to integrate into the European way of life want their habits and customs to be upheld in Europe?
2. Can the Commission explain why it favours mass immigration rather than encouraging, say, a natalist policy?
3. Does the Commission consider that Member States have unlimited capacity to support the integration of migrant populations or can it be quantified?
