Subject: Access to European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control 2019 audit report

According to the annual activity report of the Commission's Internal Audit Service (IAS)<sup>1</sup>, the IAS audited the activities of the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control (ECDC) on preparedness and response to an epidemic in 2019.

The ECDC is a European agency based in Stockholm.

1. What were the three most serious audit findings brought to light by this report, and what recommendations were made by the IAS?
2. To what extent have those recommendations been implemented, or ignored, by ECDC management?
