to the Commission
Rule 138

Subject: Green Paper on Ageing

In the Green Paper on Ageing, the Commission gives thought to an EU-wide personal pension scheme, taking the view that the EU should ensure inter alia that supplementary pensions are increased¹.

Naturally, the Commission would be going well beyond its powers if it really is planning to introduce an EU-wide pension.

1. What would be the Commission's legal basis for any such initiative?
2. What specific form would such an initiative take?
