

Question for written answer E-004402/2021
to the Commission

Rule 138

Lars Patrick Berg (ECR)

Subject: Migration

There are credible reports that the Greek Government is facilitating the movement of migrants into the rest of the European Union without properly processing their claims and applications. This policy clearly goes against the spirit of the European Union's strategy on the migration issue, and also undermines the role of Frontex.

1. Is the Commission considering sanctioning the Greek Government and, if not, what action can it take to ensure that migrants are properly assessed and that the rules are strictly adhered to?
2. In addition, what role has Frontex played in facilitating the movement of migrants from Greece to other Member States?
