

Question for written answer E-000284/2022
to the Commission
Rule 138
Tudor Ciuhodaru (S&D)

Subject: Green pass waiver

While the COVID omicron variant is highly contagious, statistics reveal that its morbidity and mortality rates are much lower than those of the Delta variant. As a result, England and Ireland have already dropped green pass restrictions, Spain has plans to do so and Israel is moving in the same direction.

1. In view of this, when will the Commission abandon European green pass restrictions?
2. Has it established clear criteria to ensure predictability regarding the moves in this direction?
3. When will it present us with a coherent strategy for transition from the pandemic to the endemic phase?