Subject: NATO announcement on the control of space

On 17 January 2022, NATO announced a new 'overarching space policy'.

1. What role will the European Space Agency (ESA) play in this?
2. How will the Commission prevent the United States from pursuing its hegemonic ambitions in space, to the detriment of Europe?
3. There is currently intensive cooperation with the Russian space programme: what future does the Commission envisage for this?
