The Council would like to remind the Honourable Member that the Conference on the Future of Europe is not a legislative process. It is a citizen-focused, bottom-up exercise for Europeans to have their say on what they expect from the European Union.

The Council was not responsible for selecting citizens to take part in the European or National Citizens’ Panels. The European Commission managed the contracts for the random selection of citizens to take part in the European Citizens’ Panels and the National Citizens’ Panels were under the responsibility of the Member States that organised them.

Therefore, the Council has no access to the details of citizens who took part in those Panels nor it is in a position to publish them.
