

Question for written answer E-001605/2022
to the Commission
Rule 138
Moritz Körner (Renew)

Subject: Privacy Shield executive orders

The Commission is currently negotiating a successor to the Privacy Shield agreement. The US side is said to be attempting to accommodate the issues raised in the Schrems judgments by issuing executive orders. Will the Commission state in its potential new adequacy decision that the decision will automatically cease to apply once the relevant executive orders have been repealed by, for instance, a new US administration?