The Commission was not aware of the incident referred to in the question of the Honourable Member.

Persons fleeing Russia’s aggression against Ukraine are in need of protection. Exposing them to a situation where their personal data may be disclosed to Russian authorities could jeopardise the physical integrity of the person enjoying temporary protection in Member States, that of his or her dependants, or the liberty and security of his or her family members still living in the country of origin.

The Commission will seek further information with the Portuguese authorities to understand the details of the incident and the follow-up given to the case at national level.
