The current Greek Rural Development Programme 2014-2022 (RDP) includes measures for the restoration of agricultural production potential damaged by natural disasters and catastrophic events and the introduction of appropriate prevention actions.

To support EU farmers most impacted by higher input and energy costs, the Commission has adopted a EUR 500 million support package. In this context, Greece was attributed an additional EUR 26,298,105 for exceptional adjustment aid in the agricultural sector. In addition, in the context of the aggression against Ukraine by Russia and the related impact on the economy, the Commission adopted in March 2022 a Temporary Crisis Framework for State aid measures, under which it approved on 1 June 2022 a Greek scheme of EUR 50 million to support livestock producers. On 29 June 2022, Regulation (EU) 2022/1033 was adopted allowing Member States to use up to 5% of the European Agricultural Fund for Rural Development (EAFRD) budget for 2021 and 2022 for exceptional temporary support. The Greek authorities indicated they will apply this measure.

The Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) Strategic Plan for Greece for the period 2023-2027 is currently under discussion between the Greek authorities and the Commission services. The Plan foresees to differentiate the basic income support and apply the internal convergence by group of territories similarly as in the current period (arable land, permanent grassland and permanent crops). The Plan also includes measures related to redistributive payments, young farmers, support in case of natural disasters, eco-schemes and targeted interventions in several sectors of agriculture and livestock.
