to the Commission

Rule 138

Jean-Lin Lacapelle (ID)

Subject: Ban on the sale of combustion engine vehicles by 2035

The EU is planning to ban the sale of combustion engine vehicles as of 2035.

This decision comes with serious drawbacks.

The fact that electric car batteries are mainly manufactured in China is one of them.

Does the Commission intend to put forward a strategy for relocating the production of these batteries to Member States?
