The EU Integrated Border Management Assistance Mission in Libya (EUBAM Libya) is supporting the Libyan National Counter Terrorism Team (NCTT) in establishing a Counter-Terrorism (CT) Fusion Cell that will have focus on intelligence gathering and analysis work, and further on be able to cooperate with the international community more effectively. In March 2022, the Mission organised a study visit for the NCTT delegation to the International Criminal Police Organisation (INTERPOL) General Secretariat in Lyon, France, to introduce the INTERPOL Counter Terrorism Crime Analysis File (CT CAF). EUBAM Libya will provide 15 laptops to NCTT for training and for data processing and analytical work of the future CT Fusion Cell.

EUBAM Libya is supporting the Libyan authorities in strengthening the coordination between the Libyan CT actors themselves and the international actors by advising and implementing activities as follows: EUBAM Libya facilitated a conference in Tripoli, Libya to establish cooperation between EUBAM Libya, Libyan CT counterparts, and the Counter-Terrorism Information Exchange and Criminal Justice Responses project (CT INFLOW Project) implemented by the EU Agency for Law Enforcement Training (CEPOL). EUBAM Libya organised a workshop on CT Fusion Cell, where the experts from the Coordination Unit for Threat Analysis (CUTA) of Belgium and the European Counter Terrorism Centre (ECTC) of the EU Agency for Law Enforcement Cooperation (EUROPOL) introduced CT Fusion Cell models on national and international levels.

At this stage, there is no intelligence training being delivered to the Libyan Border Guard by EUBAM Libya.
