Subject: Respect for fundamental rights in the application of EU law

According to Article 51(1) of the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, the Charter also applies to Member States when they are implementing European Union law. The case law of the Court of Justice makes it clear that respecting the fundamental rights when implementing European Union law is mandatory for Member States.

Do Member States have to comply with the provisions of the Charter and respect the fundamental rights and principles contained therein in projects which are implemented under the European Fund for Strategic Investments (EFSI) and the InvestEU programme?
