Subject: Taking firm action against Iran's policy of repression

For months now, Iran's mullah regime has been brutally cracking down on its own citizens. Several people have recently been executed. Meanwhile, Iran is providing arms to Russia in support of the war of aggression against Ukraine, seeking nuclear weapons and denying Israel's right to exist. Any country that crushes people's desire for freedom, wants to destroy another state and undermines peace cannot be a partner of Europe.

What is the Commission's position on the calls for the Iranian Revolutionary Guards to be included on the EU list of terrorist organisations, for sanctions to be imposed on its members and for their assets in the EU to be frozen?
