

Question for written answer E-002196/2023
to the Commission

Rule 138

Sabrina Pignedoli (NI)

Subject: Delays in decrees to promote renewable energy communities and self-consumption in Italy

Italian citizens are concerned about the long delays in finalising the implementing decrees governing the incentive mechanisms for renewable energy communities. On 21 June 2023, the Italian Minister for the Environment said that 'since the end of the pre-notification of the implementing decree, a fruitful exchange with the Commission's offices on the incentive scheme has been initiated in order to facilitate the assessment of the compatibility of the proposed scheme with State aid rules'.

1. What are the reasons hindering an agreement between the Commission and Italy on the assessment of the measures?
2. Is the delay due to the Commission's assessments or to Italy's non-compliance?
