Subject: Alignment of interest rates for European agriculture

Given that agriculture is one of Europe's key assets, is the Commission considering an initiative to align interest rates for agricultural loans across Europe, providing for:

1. low-interest loans for investment, refinancing and working capital, facilities that must be on a par throughout Europe;
2. the setting of interest rates for a period of at least 3 years;
3. low interest rates that must come as a package with no fees, such as analysis fees or arrangement fees?
