Subject: Mechanism for the early detection of red tape

In its report on cohesion policy 2014-2020, the Committee on Regional Development mentions an interesting measure: specifically, this concerns the creation of a mechanism for the early detection of red tape and actions in breach of or not effectively applying the multi-level governance principle.

1. What is the Commission's position on this initiative?
2. What specific form could this mechanism take?
3. Above all, what changes would it mean in comparison with existing procedures?
