to the Commission

Rule 138

Markus Buchheit (ID)

Subject: Compulsory refurbishment of EU buildings

The Commission has ordered the compulsory refurbishment of all public buildings in the EU. Can it therefore say which of its own or rented buildings in Brussels and Luxembourg, and those of its delegations and agencies, meet which energy standards? How much will refurbishment cost until single-glazed glass fronts, revolving doors, open garage entrances and draughty gaps between window panes and frames all meet the highest level of insulation it has prescribed?
