Amendment 12
José Gusmão

Motion for a resolution
Recital A

A. whereas the European Semester plays an important role in coordinating economic and budgetary policies in the Member States, thereby safeguarding the macroeconomic stability of the Economic and Monetary Union;

Amendment

A. whereas the European Semester was designed to coordinate economic and budgetary policies in the Member States, should be further simplified in order not to constrain the sovereignty of the Member States;

Or. en

Amendment 13
Lídia Pereira

Motion for a resolution
Recital A a (new)

Aa. whereas the European Semester, which started with the Annual Sustainable Growth Survey, is an important policy coordination instrument in the economic and fiscal field, and should, first and foremost, focus on these key dimensions of European economic and monetary integration; whereas, however, the European Pillar of Social Rights should be fully integrated in this process; whereas this process should also not ignore the objectives of the European Green Deal; whereas integration of the European Pillar of Social Rights and coherence with environmental policy should not detract from the mainly economic and fiscal nature of this European instrument;

Amendment 14
Luis Garicano
on behalf of the Renew Group

Amendment

Or. en

Amendment 15
Markus Ferber

Motion for a resolution
Recital A a (new)
Motion for a resolution

Amendment

Aa. whereas the European Semester must not be overburdened with competing objectives, but should keep a narrow focus on competitiveness and sound fiscal policies;

Or. en

Amendment 16
Lídia Pereira

Motion for a resolution
Recital B

Motion for a resolution

B. whereas according to the Commission’s autumn economic forecast, the GDP growth rate for 2022 is expected to be 4.3 % of GDP per capita for both the euro area and the EU-27, but is expected to fall to 2.4 % and 2.5 % respectively in 2023;

Or. pt

Amendment 17
Markus Ferber

Motion for a resolution
Recital B

Motion for a resolution

B. whereas according to the Commission’s autumn economic forecast, the GDP growth rate for 2022 is expected to mitigate the predicted economic slowdown and that will encourage higher growth rates in line with the global economic recovery;

Or. pt

B. whereas according to the Commission’s autumn economic forecast, the GDP growth rate for 2022 is expected to be 4.3 % for both the euro area and the EU-27, but is expected to fall to 2.4 % and 2.5 % respectively in 2023;

Amendment 19
Lídia Pereira

Motion for a resolution
Recital B a (new)

Motion for a resolution
Ba. whereas, given that the forecast growth rates for the EU and euro area in 2022 and 2023 are lower than the predicted global economic growth in GDP, Member States should adopt an ambitious approach when designing their national reform programmes for economic policy and their stability or convergence programmes for fiscal policy, as should the EU when producing country-specific recommendations; whereas, therefore, the EU (and the euro area in particular) should ideally, as a minimum, monitor global growth rates, which should include carefully assessing the gradual removal of public policy stimuli for growth, in line with the practice of other countries or economic cooperation areas;

Amendment 20
Esther de Lange

Motion for a resolution
Recital B a (new)

Amendment

Ba. whereas most Member States had reached the pre-pandemic volume of output by the end of 2021, with the remaining few Member States expected to fully recover in 2022;

Amendment 21
Ernest Urtasun
on behalf of the Greens/EFA Group

Motion for a resolution
Recital B a (new)

Amendment

Ba. whereas growth is not an objective in itself as meeting the goals of the Green Deal and Paris agreement requires targeted fiscal efforts;
Amendment 22
Markus Ferber

Motion for a resolution
Recital C

C. whereas the Commission’s autumn economic forecast shows a significant difference in the pace of recovery between the Member States in 2021, with a disparity of GDP growth ranging from 2.7% to 14.6%;

Amendment

C. whereas the Commission’s autumn economic forecast shows a significant difference in the pace of recovery between the Member States in 2021, with a disparity of GDP growth ranging from 2.7% to 14.6%; whereas the growth forecast for 2022 and 2023 is more evenly distributed across Member States;

Or. en

Amendment 23
Lídia Pereira

Motion for a resolution
Recital C a (new)

Amendment

Ca. whereas disparities in GDP growth among the Member States point to very different structural economic situations across the EU27, which should be taken into account in the European Semester process and, in particular, in the development of national and European instruments as part of the process; whereas, therefore, the process should take account of good examples of public policy (both economic and fiscal) of those Member States that exceed the average growth rates to a greater or lesser extent;

Or. pt

Amendment 24
Ernest Urtasun
Motion for a resolution
Recital C (new)

Motion for a resolution
Amendment

Ca. whereas the premature withdrawal of fiscal stimulus and the lack of coordination of fiscal action can exacerbate already existing divergences in the Eurozone and thus undermine its cohesiveness and integrity;

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 10 a (new)

10a. Recalls that, as stipulated in its Regulation, the Recovery and Resilience Facility cannot be used to finance current expenditure or increase structural expenditure in the Member States, but should be used to develop fiscal policies that are attractive to investment, and should involve management efficiency criteria that ensure short-term or medium-term budgetary savings for Member State governments;

Amendment 232
Markus Ferber

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13 a (new)

13a. Is concerned about the high levels of government debt reaching 100% of GDP in the Eurozone in 2021 and 92.1% of GDP in the EU; notes that this level of public indebtedness is considerably higher than the reference values in the treaty; notes with concern that high public debt levels are a source of systemic macroeconomic risk, particularly when the ECB's monetary policy is expected to become less accommodative due to rising inflationary pressures;

Amendment 233
Lídia Pereira

Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution Amendment

13a. Expresses concern about public debt levels, both in absolute values and in terms of their relationship to GDP, in various Member States, which face a key macroeconomic challenge concerning the sustainability of their debt, emphasising the importance of sustained debt reduction strategies in a scenario of inflationary pressure on interest rates and gradual withdrawal of monetary stimuli;

Amendment 234
Victor Negrescu

Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution Amendment

13a. Recalls that the European Parliament, social partners, the civil society, academia and local authorities have to be actively involved in the governance and supervision of the implementation of the NRRPs in each member states; regrets that in some member states, like it was the case by of the previous government in Romania, the authorities refused the active participation of social partners and of the Parliament in the drafting of the NRRPs;

Paragraph 13 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

13a. Underlines, in this context, that money-for-free does usually not pave the way for long-term financial stability on a national level; there is rather a risk for constant budget deficits and a permanent dependency on financial support from outside;

Amendment 236
Lídia Pereira
Motion for a resolution
Paragraph 13 b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

13b. Emphasises that failing to make reforms in the context of the favourable financial framework resulting from the application of the RRF and the implementation of the MFF will not only prolong structural weaknesses in national economies and societies, but will in fact worsen them, both in terms of the quality of services provided to the public (by governments) and promotion of the competitiveness of EU economies; urges the Member States to take advantage of all the opportunities offered by the RRF, combined with the application of the general escape clause in the SGP and the monetary stimuli provided by the European Central Bank, to make strategic reforms in order to protect the rights of citizens, provide quality services and create an environment conducive to investment and work by our businesses (particularly SMEs), notably in the areas of health, education, justice and social security;
