Amendment 3

Proposal for a directive Recital 6 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(6a) The flexibility granted to Member States in the context of the current proposal in no way prejudices the definitive VAT regime to be rolled out and in the context of which any increase in flexibility will have to be balanced against the impact on the functioning of the single market, the scope for VAT fraud, the rise in business costs and the risk of unfair competition.

Amendment 4

Proposal for a directive Recital 6 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(6b) While the current proposal allows Member States to rectify a situation of unequal treatment, it does not remove the need for a more coordinated, efficient and simpler system of reduced VAT rates with fewer exceptions.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Under the current VAT Directive (Council Directive 2006/12/EC), electronically supplied services including e-publications can only be taxed at the standard VAT rate of minimum 15%. As regards printed publications however, Member States are free to apply a reduced VAT rate (minimum 5%). Some Member States even obtained derogations allowing them to apply super-reduced (lower than 5%) or zero-rates.

Such a difference in treatment between printed and e-publications became less and less justifiable as the digital economy further developed. Therefore the Commission proposes to amend the VAT Directive and grant all Member States the option to apply the same reduced, super-reduced or even zero rates to electronically supplied publications as were already available for printed publications.

The supply of pure music and video content would continue to be taxed at the standard VAT rate, as would publications that predominantly consist of music and video content. Without prejudice to the interpretative powers of the Court of Justice, the proposal does not interfere with the Member States' discretion to specify the terms of "books, newspapers and periodicals" and "predominantly consisting of".

Your rapporteur welcomes this targeted proposal to correct the unequal VAT treatment of printed and e-publications, which has led to a significantly less favourable tax treatment of e-publications. He agrees with the Commission's choice to decouple this issue from the forthcoming general proposal on rates and urges the Council to swiftly adopt this long overdue legislative modification.
