Amendment

19b. Calls on the Member States to set up a targeted compensation fund to provide financial support and rehabilitation for people who have experienced complications following vaccination; points out that forced vaccination is a breach of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms; points out that the European Court of Human Rights, for example, has taken such a position with regard to compulsory vaccination, stating that coercion is a breach of Article 8 of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms: 'The Commission recalls that private life [...] includes a person's physical and psychological integrity' (No 32647/96, Decision of 1.7.1998, DR 94, p. 91-93); points out that the Court examined an application on the basis of Article 8 of the Convention, which stipulates: '1. Everyone has the right to respect for his private and family life, his home and his correspondence. 2. There shall be no interference by a public authority with the exercise of this right except such as is in accordance with the law and is necessary in a democratic society in the interests of national security, public safety or the economic well-being of the country, for the prevention of disorder or crime, for the protection of health or morals, or for the protection of the rights and freedoms of others’; points out that the Court considers that compulsory vaccination, as compulsory medical intervention, constitutes interference with the right to respect for private life guaranteed by Article 8(1);
