Subject: Employment in Spain - preventive measures and job creation rates

Under the employment policy guidelines for 2002, the Member States are asked to ensure in 2002 that every unemployed person is offered a fresh job opportunity before reaching six months of unemployment in the case of the young, and twelve months in the case of adults. In its most recent Joint Employment report (COM(2001)0438/final - C5-0423/2001 - 2001/2168(COS)), the Commission does not provide any data on the success achieved with young unemployed people or on the job creation rates for men and women in the Kingdom of Spain. Has this information been requested, and has Spain supplied it?
