for Question Time at the part-session in February 2006 pursuant to Rule 109 of the Rules of Procedure
by Agnes Schierhuber
to the Council

Subject:           Establishing economic links between the Mediterranean States and the EU

The economic stability and development of the EU's neighbouring States and the establishment of links between them and the Community are fundamental to the process of creating an area of security and prosperity surrounding the European Union.

What practical measures will be taken in the first half of 2006 with a view to establishing closer economic links between the Mediterranean States and the European Union (Euromed process)?
