

ORAL QUESTION H-0532/08
for Question Time at the part-session in September I 2008
pursuant to Rule 109 of the Rules of Procedure
by Robert Evans
to the Council

Subject: EU overseas territorial anomalies

Does the Presidency deem it anomalous to have a country in South America considered to be a part of the European Union when at the same time we are stalling entry negotiations with Croatia, Turkey and other European States, who clearly have a stronger geographical claim?

In the current post-Irish referendum climate, how does Council envisage processing applications such as these? Has this ever been discussed in Council?
