Text proposed by the Commission

“2. The Member States shall provide annual quality reports to the Commission, beginning in 2003. The content of the reports shall be defined by the Commission by means of implementing act. Those implementing acts shall be adopted in accordance with the procedure referred to in Article 12(2).”

This empowerment must therefore be in the form of a delegated act.

to the European Parliament and to the Council in a timely manner if it intends not to propose the adoption of a standard.”

Or. en

Justification

It is appropriate to establish certain reporting obligations to the Parliament and the Council as regards the preparation of draft international accounting standards. This would be in line with requests by Parliament (Stolojan report) and the text agreed in Article 9(6a) of the EFRAG Financing report.

Amendment 180

Proposal for a regulation
Annex I – Part VIII – point 80 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

In order to adapt Directive 2009/110/EC to take account of inflation or technological and market developments, and to ensure a convergent application of certain exemptions set out in that Directive, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission to amend that Directive. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

Amendment

Directive 2009/110/EC includes in Article 14 an empowerment for the Commission to adopt measures which are necessary to update the provisions of the Directive "in order to take account of inflation or technological and market developments" in accordance with the regulatory procedure with scrutiny. Such empowerment, if adapted to an empowerment for the adoption of delegated acts without further changes, would not satisfy the requirements of Article 290 TFEU regarding the necessary specification of objectives, content and scope of the delegation of power. Taking into account that the Commission has not used the empowerment to date, it should be deleted.
Justification

This amendment explains why the empowerment in this Directive is deleted entirely.

Proposal for a regulation
Annex I – Part VIII – point 80 – paragraph 2 – point 1
Directive 2009/110/EC
Article 14

(1) Article 14 is replaced by the following:

Article 14

a) amending this Directive in order to take account of inflation or technological and market developments;

b) amending Article 1(4) and (5) to ensure the convergent application of the exemptions referred to in those provisions.

Amendment

(1) Article 14 is deleted.

Justification

The empowerment is too broad to be appropriate for a delegated act under Article 290 TFEU and it has not been used so far. Therefore, it should be deleted.

Annex I – Part XI – point 104 – paragraph 1
In order to adapt Directive 97/70/EC to the evolution of international law, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission to amend that Directive in order to apply subsequent amendments to the Torremolinos Protocol. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. Amendment

In order to achieve the objectives of Directive 2002/46/EC, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission to amend Annexes I and II to that Directive in order to adapt those Annexes to technical progress and to supplement that Directive as regards the purity criteria for substances listed in Annex II thereto, and the minimum amounts of vitamins and minerals that are to be present in food supplements. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

Justification

In line with amendments to Articles aligning measures previously submitted under Regulatory Procedure with Scrutiny to delegated acts.

Proposal for a regulation
Annex I – Part XII – point 146 – paragraph 2 – point 3
Directive 2003/99/EC
Article 11

Text proposed by the Commission

(3) in Article 11, the first and second paragraphs are replaced by the following:

Amendment

(3) Article 11 is replaced by the following:

“Article 11

Amendments to the Annexes and implementing measures

The Commission is empowered to adopt delegated acts in accordance with Article 11a to amend Annexes II, III and IV, taking account in particular of the following criteria:

(a) the occurrence of zoonoses, zoonotic agents and antimicrobial resistance in animal and human population, feed, food and the environment,
(b) the availability of new monitoring and reporting tools,
(c) the needs required for the assessment of trends at national, European or global level.

In addition, implementing measures may be adopted in accordance with the committee procedure referred to in Article 12(2).”

Justification

The criteria inserted are new, however they make the empowerment more precise by explaining what could justify amending the Annexes (thus not just giving a “blank” empowerment). Since the Commission proposal has kept the last paragraph of Article 11 of Directive 2003/99/EC without any changes, it makes sense to add a deletion of the “transitional measures” mentioned in that paragraph (as transitional measures are no longer needed).

It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

Or. en

Justification

This amendment reflects the original wording of paragraph 2 much better. Derogations should not affect any of the objectives of the Regulation (EC) No 852/2004. The wording proposed by the Commission inexplicably mixes up the reasons for derogations with the objectives of the Regulation (points (a) and (b) are not the objectives of the Regulation). In addition, point (b) is not present in the current wording of Article 13 thereof.

Amendment 375

Proposal for a regulation
Annex I – Part XII – point 166 – paragraph 1

Text proposed by the Commission

In order to achieve the objectives of Regulation (EC) No 767/2009, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 of the Treaty should be delegated to the Commission to amend the Annexes to that Regulation in order to adapt them to technical progress and to supplement that Regulation with a list of categories of feed materials. It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making of 13 April 2016. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States’ experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Background

Article 5a of Decision 1999/468/EC, as amended by Council Decision 2006/512/EC, ("the Comitology Decision"), established the so-called regulatory procedure with scrutiny (RPS).

With the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon on 1st December 2009 and in light of the subsequent new legal framework for sub-secondary legislation established by Articles 290 and 291 TFEU, the Comitology Decision had to be revised. However, Regulation 182/2011 ("the Comitology Regulation"), which was adopted for this purpose on the basis of Article 291(3) TFEU, intentionally left Article 5a of the Comitology Decision out of its scope. Article 5a establishing the RPS had therefore to be provisionally maintained for the purposes of existing basic acts referring to that Article. On the other hand, the acquis in question has to be aligned as soon as possible to the Treaty of Lisbon in order to ensure legal certainty.

In 2013, the Commission proposed to complete the alignment with three extensive proposals (so-called Omnibus proposals), which Parliament adopted in first reading in February 2014. However, the proposals were withdrawn by the new Commission following the European elections. The new Inter-institutional Agreement on Better Law-making (IIA) of 13 April 2016 addressed this question in paragraph 27. This provision reads as follows:

"The three Institutions [i.e. the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission] acknowledge the need for the alignment of all existing legislation to the legal framework introduced by the Lisbon Treaty, and in particular the need to give high priority to the prompt alignment of all basic acts which still refer to the regulatory procedure with scrutiny. The Commission will propose that latter alignment by the end of 2016".

Following the entry into force of the IIA and in light of the obligations stemming therefrom, the Commission presented two new proposals for alignment in December 2016, one focusing on legislative files in the area of justice and one focusing on the remaining policy areas. The two proposals cover 3 and 168 basic acts, respectively.

Contrary to the 2013 proposals, which generally provided that the references to the RPS contained in the basic acts were to be read as references to Articles 290 or 291 TFEU, respectively, the current proposals aim at amending the basic acts in question individually.

Your rapporteur’s approach to the present proposal

Delegated and implementing acts are an important part of the core competences of the Committee on Legal Affairs (JURI) as regards the interpretation, application and monitoring of Union law, the compliance of Union acts with primary law, better law-making and the simplification of Union law, as provided in Annex V to the Rules of Procedure. JURI has furthermore been highly active in this area since the entry into force of the Treaty of Lisbon in 2009 and well before, when the then regulatory procedure with scrutiny was first introduced in 2006.

During the two previous alignment exercises – in 2008-2009 and 2013-2014, respectively – a specific working method was agreed at the level of the Conference of Committee Chairs (CCC). The same arrangements have been agreed in respect of the current exercise. Under such procedure, the opinion-giving committees have themselves decided how to elaborate their opinions internally and what form those opinions would take, and JURI has undertaken to take all the opinions on board in their entirety in its report. As already announced in his working document¹, your rapporteur is in favour of the approach in question and stresses the coordinating role the JURI can play in this respect.

In general terms, your rapporteur welcomes the present proposal and shares the Commission’s choice to update many existing cases of RPS to delegated acts. On the other hand, the Commission would still prefer to have implementing acts in some instances. The rapporteur and the sectoral committees consulted object to those cases of alignment with implementing acts where they consider that the Commission proposal lacks a detailed and specific justification. These procedures should be aligned to delegated acts. Indeed, in the context of a post-Lisbon alignment, measures which may be covered by delegated acts correspond in principle to those covered by RPS and should not, therefore, be aligned to implementing acts².

The rapporteur wishes to raise important horizontal issues such as the wording of the empowements (which has to be as precise as possible and in line with the recent case law³) and the duration of the delegation of powers (which should not exceed 5 years and should be accompanied by a reporting obligation on the Commission). The Commission proposal should be amended accordingly.

Last but not least, your rapporteur would like to recall paragraph 31 of the IIA, which enables the Commission to bundle two or more empowements. However, he stresses that the Commission’s choice to bundle empowements must be as transparent and accountable as possible and that abuses are to be avoided.

² In its resolution of 25 February 2014 on follow-up on the delegation of legislative powers and control by Member States of the Commission's exercise of implementing powers (2012/2323(INI)), among other things Parliament considers that “at least all cases previously dealt with under RPS should now be aligned to Article 290 TFEU” (para. 6).
