

WRITTEN QUESTION P-2726/09
by Glenis Willmott (PSE)
to the Commission

Subject: Cross-border enforcement of motoring penalties

Can the Commission clarify the law regarding cross-border enforcement of motoring penalties? A constituent of mine has written regarding a case where a Polish HGV lorry has been parked in a residential area for nearly a week.

One of the questions asked was whether a penalty notice handed out in the UK would be enforceable in another EU country and whether it would be costly to pursue such enforcement.
