Priority question for written answer P-003890/2021
to the Commission
Rule 138
Anne Sander (PPE)

Subject: Floods in France – support for affected regions

Over the last few weeks, extreme weather in the northern and north-eastern regions of France has caused a number of rivers to burst their banks, flooding both agricultural and populated areas.

1. How much support can the rural development programmes offer to restore the land and productive potential of the farms affected?

2. What specific measures can the regional funds finance to support reconstruction efforts in the affected regions?