to the Commission

Rule 138

Nadine Morano (PPE)

Subject: Ukrainian poultry imports

In 2022, the European Union suspended tariffs on Ukrainian exports to the EU for one year – including for poultry – in order to support the Ukrainian economy, which had been weakened by the war with Russia. In April 2023, this exemption was renewed for an additional year.

In this context:

Does the Commission intend to implement safeguard measures on Ukrainian poultry to protect the European market from distortions of competition?
