amendment 21

First part

'Resilience is key to ensuring that the internal market delivers on one of its ultimate goal of supporting the Union's economy. This Regulation should allow for anticipation of events and crises, building on ongoing analysis concerning critically important areas of the internal market economy and the Union's continuous foresight work. In order to ensure the crisis-preparedness of all actors, it is necessary to set out rules on stress tests to be conducted at least every two years, and on trainings and crisis protocols involving not only relevant national authorities, but also stakeholders such as businesses, social partners and experts.'

Second part

'It is also essential to lay down rules on strategic reserves of goods of critical importance, in order to ensure a proper exchange of information and provide support to Member States in order to assist them in coordinating and streamlining their efforts.'

§ 14

First part Text as a whole without the words: 'reiterates its strong condemnation of Turkey's withdrawal, by presidential decree, from the Istanbul Convention as a major setback to efforts to promote women's rights in the country and reiterates its call on Türkiye's Government to reverse this unacceptable decision and to abide by and act in conformity with the international treaties, covenants and obligations to which it is party;'

Second part those words

First part 'Expresses concern about widespread hate speech and discrimination against the LGBTI+ community; deplores the constant targeting and harassment of LGBTI+ people and in particular the use of anti-LGBTI+ rhetoric by politicians and high-level public officials, including the President of the Republic; regrets that, since 2014, the authorities have banned Pride parades in major cities, including in Istanbul; recalls that Türkiye's obligations under the ECHR entail a responsibility to combat discrimination and violence against LGBTI+ persons and urges the Turkish authorities to deliver on their commitments'

Second part 'and add sexual orientation, gender identity and sex characteristics as protected grounds to anti-discrimination provisions;'

First part 'Considers, in view of all the above, that in the absence of a drastic change of course by the Turkish Government, Türkiye's EU accession process cannot be resumed in the current circumstances;'

Second part 'urges the Turkish Government and the European Union's institutions and Member States to break the current deadlock and move forward towards a closer, more dynamic and strategic partnership; recommends approaching this matter with the highest level of responsibility and dedication'

Third part 'and to start a reflection process to find a parallel and realistic framework for EU-Türkiye relations that encompasses the interests of all parties involved; calls on the Commission, therefore, to explore possible formats for a mutually appealing framework through a comprehensive and inclusive process, such as a modernised association agreement;'
