§ 11

- First part 'Reiterates the importance of the protection of the rights of indigenous peoples in line with the international agreements such as UNDRIP'
- Second part 'and ILO Convention 169, including the respect of the free, prior and informed consent (FPIC) of local communities and indigenous peoples;

§ 31

- First part 'Welcomes the recognition of indigenous peoples' knowledge and practices under the TSD chapter;'
- Second part 'regrets, however, that ILO Convention 169 and the UN principle of free prior and informed consent enshrined in UNDRIP, which uphold the rights of indigenous peoples in trade relations, are not explicitly mentioned;'

§ 49

- First part Text as a whole without the words: 'including the right to free, prior and informed consent'
- Second part those words

Amendment 3

- First part 'Considers that several trade and investment protection commitments in this agreement could ultimately threaten efforts to combat global warming, undermine Chile's industrial development plans, and threaten small and medium-sized farmers; calls on the Commission to effectively address these issues in the upcoming review of the agreement;'
- Second part 'calls on the Commission and the Member States to fundamentally review the EU's trade agenda and guarantee that future agreements contribute to reducing poverty and inequality, safeguarding workers' rights, protecting small and sustainable farms, improving social security, guaranteeing the democratic rights of indigenous people to their land and delivering on climate justice;

The Left:

First part

‘Calls on the Vice-President of the Commission / High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and the Member States to hold the Russian political leadership and authorities to account, in close coordination with EU partners;’

Second part

‘calls on the Council to effectively use the Global Human Rights Sanctions Regime and implement targeted measures against those involved in and responsible for the politically motivated trials against Alexei Navalny, his sentencing, his imprisonment and his detention conditions, including the prosecutors and judges, prison staff and those responsible for his premature death; welcomes the recent adoption of sanctions by the US following Navalny’s death and invites the EU to coordinate its sanctions with international partners;’

§ 12

First part 'Calls on the Member States to step up their efforts to find feasible ways of freeing the worst-affected prisoners, in particular political prisoners who are ill or have been tortured, including the option of possible exchanges of imprisoned individuals;'

Second part 'calls on the Council to create a special role of envoy for political prisoners and hostages in Russia in order to coordinate such efforts, in cooperation with international partners, and to serve as a point of contact for affected families and associates;'

§ 22

First part 'Deplores the Russian regime's imperialist policies and condemns, in the strongest possible terms, Russia's continued war of aggression against Ukraine;'

Second part 'reiterates that the EU, its Member States and like-minded partners around the world must continue their political, economic, financial and military support for Ukraine, including support to civil society and long-term support for the reconstruction of Ukraine, as this is the best response to the oppressive practices currently perpetrated by the Kremlin regime;'

§ 7

First part

‘Underlines that the main objective is for Ukraine to win the war against Russia, which entails driving all the forces of Russia and its proxies and allies out of the internationally recognised territory of Ukraine;’

Second part

‘considers that this objective can be met only through the continued, sustained and steadily increasing supply of all types of conventional weapons to Ukraine, without exception;’

PPE:

Amendment 1

First part	Addition of the words: ‘stresses that Ukraine’s access to the single market in the area of agriculture was granted provisionally and should be revised, taking into account the level of distortion on the European market;’
Second part	Addition of the words: ‘to establish effective measures to monitor the transit of Ukrainian agricultural products and to introduce measures to mitigate the effects on European farmers, whose reasonable protests and demands are also being exploited and targeted by Russian disinformation;’
Third part	Deletion of the words: ‘supports the Commission proposal to renew the suspension of import duties and quotas on Ukrainian exports to the EU;’
Fourth part	Deletion of the words: ‘that would limit Ukraine’s access to the EU single market;’
