European Parliament resolution on the arrest of a group of European journalists and their American interpreter and Laotian escorts

The European Parliament,

- having regard to its earlier resolutions on the political situation and human rights in Laos,
  - having regard to the EC-Laos Framework Cooperation Agreement of 29 April 1997,
  - having regard to the EU Presidency Declaration on Laos of 22 December 2000,
  - having regard to the EC-Laos Strategy Paper 2002-2006,
- A. having regard to the arrest of the European journalists Vincent Reynaud and Thierry Falise, the American journalist Naw Karl Mua and their Laotian escorts, and to their detention since 4 June 2003,
- B. whereas this team was in process of producing a report on the Hmong, who were allied to the US during the Vietnam war and have a long history of resistance and aspirations to independence vis-à-vis the Laotian government,
- C. whereas the journalists and the pastor have not been allowed any visits of diplomats for more than ten days and have been held in an undisclosed location for more than a week,
- D. deeply concerned over the physical and mental wellbeing of the detained journalists, the pastor and the four Lao nationals, whose names and whereabouts have not been made public,
- E. having regard to their sentencing to fifteen years in prison on Monday, 30 June 2003, in a trial which failed to respect the defendants' rights, on charges of 'obstructing an official in the performance of his duties',
- F. deeply concerned at the general political, human rights and social situation in Laos under the ruling single party, the Lao People's Revolutionary Party (LPRP), and at the plight of the Laotian population, whose civil and political rights are not respected,
- G. welcoming the Commission's statement to the effect that, should the situation of political rights and human rights in Laos degenerate to the point where the Community's permanent cooperation with that country would be endangered, it would be willing to take the necessary action with a view to reaching an agreement on the ad hoc measures to be adopted,
