The final joint text, the report drawn up by the rapporteur and the delegation chair, the covering letter, the annexes, and the financial implication statement are published in the Official Journal of the European Union, where they become part of the legislative proposal. The Secretariat is responsible for preparing the final version of the legislative proposal, often with the help of the specialized services: e.g., the legal service, lawyer-linguists, and press service.

The final joint text is the result of the interinstitutional negotiations conducted by the Conciliation Committee. If both the European Parliament and the Council fail to adopt the final joint text, the legislative procedure is usually ended. It can only be restarted with a new proposal from the Commission.

If either institution fails to approve the final joint text, the legislative procedure ends: it can only be re-started with a new proposal from the Commission.

The您好 Conciliation Committee is composed of three members nominated by the European Parliament, three members by the Council, and three members by the European Commission. The three vice-presidents have special responsibility for conciliation. Each delegation has three vice-presidents: one from the European Parliament, one from the Council, and one from the Commission.

Each delegation has its own Secretariat, and by specialized services: e.g., legal service, lawyer-linguists, and press service. The Secretariat is responsible for preparing the final version of the legislative proposal, often with the help of these specialized services.

If outstanding questions remain, the delegation gives instructions to the negotiating team on how to continue the negotiations. If the European Parliament and the Council reach an agreement, the delegated powers procedure is activated. If one of the two institutions fails to approve the final joint text, the legislative procedure ends: it can only be re-started with a new proposal from the Commission.

The European Parliament and the Council may propose amendments to the Commission proposal. If the Council position goes first to the responsible committee, which prepares a recommendation for Parliament's 2nd reading. If the Parliament position goes first, the Council position is automatically put on the draft plenary agenda for the 2nd reading. The Parliament 2nd reading is opened on the provisional version, which is automatically forwarded to the delegation of the committee responsible, which is the same as in the 1st reading.

Documents are received by Parliament and Council in electronic form as soon as possible after the end of negotiations. The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.

If the European Parliament 2nd reading position goes first, the Council position and the committee's 2nd reading recommendation are automatically put on the draft plenary agenda for the 2nd reading. The European Parliament 2nd reading position is opened on the provisional version of the document, which is automatically forwarded to the delegation of the committee responsible, which is the same as in the 1st reading.

The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The documentation received by Council comprises:

- The document itself,
- The European Parliament 2nd reading position on the document,
- The European Parliament's 2nd reading position on the European Parliament's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The European Parliament and Council are the two co-legislators in the legislative process, and they have the right to propose amendments to the Commission proposal. If the Council position goes first, the European Parliament 2nd reading position is automatically put on the draft plenary agenda for the 2nd reading. The European Parliament's 2nd reading position is opened on the provisional version of the document, which is automatically forwarded to the delegation of the committee responsible, which is the same as in the 1st reading.

The documentation received by Council comprises:

- The document itself,
- The European Parliament 2nd reading position on the document,
- The European Parliament's 2nd reading position on the European Parliament's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.

The documentation received by Parliament comprises:

- The document itself,
- The Council's position on the document,
- The Council's position on the Council's position and why it supports or opposes it.