Professor Colin Grant
BA, PhD, FHEA
Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Internationalisation)

Professor Grant was formerly the inaugural Pro-Vice-Chancellor of International Relations at the University of Surrey (2009-12). Prior to this he was Head of the School of Arts, Communication & Humanities (2005-2007) at the University before becoming Dean of International Relations (2007-2009).

He served as inaugural chair of the University Global Partnership Network which includes the University of Surrey, North Carolina State University, Universidade de São Paulo, and has partnership relations with Fapesp and Banco Santander.

He has also worked at Heriot-Watt University, Edinburgh (1990-1993, 1998-2005) and the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (1995-1998).

After taking his PhD at the University of Bath, he was a postdoctoral fellow in the LUMIS-Institut, Universität/Gesamthochschule Siegen (Germany), and has devoted his research career to the philosophy of communication, a field in which he has published nine books.

Professor Grant is a fluent writer and speaker of French, German and Portuguese and a learner of Chinese, Spanish and Korean. He is also an alumnus of the Leadership Foundation Top Management Programme.