Proposal for a decision
Recital 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission	Amendment
	(1a) The Decision on the System of Own Resources, furthermore, provides the legal basis for the Commission to borrow funds on the capital markets in order to finance expenditure in the framework of the Next Generation EU Recovery Package. The related costs of the principal and interest of the repayments must be re-financed over and above the MFF ceilings and entirely located in the extraordinary and temporary increase of the own resources ceiling (article 3c) in a pre-defined time frame depending on the maturities of the bonds issued and the debt repayment strategy. Such costs should not lead to any increases in national contributions. Therefore, such costs should be entirely covered by the income from genuine new Own Resources. Any amounts generated by such new Own Resources beyond what is necessary to cover the repayment obligations in a given year should flow to the Union budget as general revenue. Any new Own Resources should continue to fund the Union budget as general revenue after the end of the repayment plan.

The related costs of the principal and interest of the repayments must be re-financed by the Union budget in a pre-defined timeframe depending on the maturities of the bonds issued and the debt repayment strategy. Such costs should not lead to an undue reduction in programme expenditure or investment instruments under the Multiannual Financial Framework, nor should they result in sharp increases in national contributions. Therefore, such costs should be covered by the income from genuine new Own Resources. Any amounts generated by such new Own Resources beyond what is necessary to cover the repayment obligations should lead to an increase of the Union's budget. Any new Own Resources should continue to fund the Union budget as general revenue after the end of the repayment plan.

	(1a) The Decision on the System of Own Resources, furthermore, provides the legal basis for the Commission to borrow funds on the capital markets in order to finance expenditure in the framework of the Next Generation EU Recovery Package. The related costs of the principal and interest of the repayments must be re-financed by the Union budget in a pre-defined timeframe depending on the maturities of the bonds issued and the debt repayment strategy. Such costs should not lead to an undue reduction in programme expenditure or investment instruments under the Multiannual Financial Framework, nor should they result in sharp increases in national contributions. Therefore, such costs should be covered by the income from new Own Resources.

Or. en

Justification

New own resources can help finance the principal costs and interest of the repayments to avoid undue reduction in programme expenditure or investments under the Multiannual Financial Framework. New own resources could equally avoid sharp increases in the GNI based contribution, a fair, genuine own resource and by definition sufficient.

Amendment 36
Dimitrios Papadimoulis, Younous Omarjee
on behalf of the GUE/NGL Group

Proposal for a decision
Recital 1 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission	Amendment
	(1a) The new categories of Own

	Resources should be introduced as of 2021 for their proceeds to be available when the interest and repayment obligations occur and to contribute to the development of Union policies and programmes. The proceeds from those Own Resources should be sufficient to cover at least the costs of the principal and interest of the repayments and other related costs in their entirety. The new Own Resources should be aligned with Union policy objectives and support the European Pillar of Social Rights, the European Green Deal, the Sustainable Development Goals and the Paris Agreement objective, as well as the functioning of the Single Market and efforts to improve the effectiveness of corporate taxation.

Recital 1 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission	Amendment

(1b) The scale of the amounts needed to avoid a catastrophic economic, social and environmental crisis are considerable. Already before this crisis, on 14 January 2020, the European Commission had stated that the Green Deal would require to bridge an investment gap assessed to at least €260 to 500 billion per year over the next 10 years. In May 2020, the Commission has estimated the investment needs for delivering the green transition and digital transformation at EU level to amount at least 595 bn EUR per year. Such resources needed to pursue EU key policies would boost productivity and innovation and create more than 5 million jobs, in all our countries, which will be much needed to overcome this crisis. Moreover, additionally to this amount, the Commission estimates the need of additional investments in the area of social infrastructure at least 192 bn EUR/per year, to recover to COVID-19 crisis and its dramatic social consequences. To reach these types of volumes of investment, and to avoid a deep economic, social and environmental crisis, substantial revenues from new own resources will have to be part of the solution.

Or. en

Justification

Several EU leaders including President von der Leyen and Prime Minister Sanchez called for a "European Marshall Plan". In the short run, debt is the solution for a Recovery Plan up to the magnitude of this crisis, and we salute the proposal by the European Commission for a 750 billion Euros plan "Next Generation EU". But some countries don't agree with this plan because they do not want to have to repay this common debt. That is why, more than ever, new own resources are needed.

Recital 1 b (new)

Text proposed by the Commission	Amendment
	(1b) The new categories of Own Resources should be introduced in sufficient time for their proceeds to be available when the interest and repayment obligations occur. The proceeds from those Own Resources should be sufficient to cover entirely the costs of the principal and interest of the repayments and other related costs in their entirety and to reduce the GNI-based own resources to 40% by the end of the MFF 2021-2027. The new Own Resources should be aligned with Union policy objectives and support the European Green Deal as well as the functioning of the Single Market and efforts to improve the effectiveness of corporate taxation. The European Parliament, in its MFF-Own Resources Interim Report of November 2018, has already endorsed a possible basket of new Own Resources that display such characteristics, which should be enlarged to other options such as an EU-wide kerosene tax.

The collection costs retained by Member States from the traditional Own Resources should be restored from 20% to the original level of 10% to better align financial support for customs equipment, staff and information with the actual costs and needs.	(11) The retention, by way of collection costs, of 20 % of the amounts collected by the Member States for traditional Own Resources constitutes a high share of Own Resources not being made available to the Union Budget. The collection costs retained by Member States from the traditional Own Resources should be restored from 20% to the original level of 10% to better align financial support for customs equipment, staff and information with the actual costs and needs. However, the overhead costs of running tax systems being proportionately greater for small member states than for larger economies, an audit of costs and tax outturn should be carried out in all Member States to determine variances in collection costs. The results of such audit will be taken into account when implementing the stated adjustment.

	(16a) In September 2011, the European Commission issued the directive proposal COM(2011) 594 to create a Financial Transaction Tax (FTT): a tax of 0.1% on shares and bonds, and 0.01% on derivatives, which would have been effective on January 1, 2014 and which shall flow in the EU Budget. Despite Brexit and the economic crisis, this tax could bring in more than €50 billion each year, which would be very useful to repay the interest and capital of the 500 billion common debt and to free up another 30 billion for investment in EU policies, such as the green deal, digitalisation transformation and research, without increasing national contributions.

Justification

Positions are shifting

The German Finance Minister said in April that he sees an agreement in the « near future », and asked the Commission to open the FTT to more countries than the 10 negotiating it. Austria's Finance Minister criticized an FTT that would be too weak, that would not target high-frequency trading and derivatives. He warned that Austria could leave the group of countries working on a FTT if this weak proposal is pushed forward. And other countries are moving: this year the Prime Minister of Poland wrote in the Financial Times supporting 3 resources, including the FTT.
