Facing COVID-19 crisis: a budget to protect and innovate...

1. Insists that the EU budget is vital to respond to the challenges faced by the Union and made even more visible and acute by the COVID-19 crisis and that it needs to reflect the degree of ambition of the Member States and the institutions; stresses, therefore, that the primary focus of the 2021 budget should be to mitigate the effects of the COVID-19 outbreak and support the recovery, built on the European Green Deal and digital transformation;

2. Emphasises that the Union and all of its Member States must show full solidarity with those most in need, pulling together as a community and ensuring that no country is left to fight this pandemic and the aftermath on its own, including through a 2021 budget commensurate to this historical challenge;

3. Highlights in this context that 2021 budget should be the first of an updated, reoriented and very ambitious 2021-2027 MFF;

4. In line with its resolution of XXX, reiterates its request that the Commission proposes an MFF contingency plan by 15 June 2020, on the basis of the automatic extension of the 2020 ceilings, in order to protect beneficiaries of EU programmes and ensure continuity of funding; stresses that this MFF contingency plan should allow for the prolongation of existing EU programmes and their refocusing on addressing the consequences of the crisis, as well as for setting-up of the most urgent new instruments and initiatives; underlines the need to avoid any risk of discontinuity or disorderly extension of the current MFF and programmes in 2021 and to guarantee that the Union will be enabled to carry out its operations and to provide an ambitious crisis response and recovery strategy;

5. Underlines that no Member State, on its own, will be able to finance a massive recovery plan, as long as needed, to face the COVID-19 crisis and that, if financed solely with debt, national recovery plans would be very limited in amount and duration; insists that the recovery plan must comprise a massive investment part financed by the Union budget as of 2021 and calls therefore for the Budget 2021 to be an important part of this recovery plan;

6. Believes that the recovery plan needs to be built on the European Green Deal and digital transformation of our societies to rebuild our economy, ensure resilience and inclusion, while respecting planetary boundaries, protect people's wellbeing and health from further risks and environmental impacts, create high-quality jobs and ensure social, economic and territorial cohesion and convergence, notably through investment in SMEs and the most affected sectors by the crisis such as tourism and the development of sustainable public infrastructure and services and of the strategy sectors such as the health sector that confronts the crisis from the front line; calls on the Commission to introduce a draft 2021 budget that is line with these priorities;

7. Considers that the EU budget's revenue side shall be seen as a tool for the achievement of EU policies; underlines that, in order to cover supplementary expenditure incurred by the crisis and to mitigate the predominance of the GNI contributions in the EU budget, new additional own resources flowing directly into the EU budget as general revenue will need to play a key role as of 2021; considers that the absence of fresh new own resources will have negative political consequences on the 2021 Union budget and jeopardise the new political agenda of the Commission; considers in this regard the Commission's proposals on own resources from May 2018 as a good starting point that needs to be broadly deepened regarding the current challenges and crisis; recalls, as expressed in its November 2018 interim report and October 2019 resolution, that the European Parliament will not give its consent to the 2021-2027 MFF without an agreement on the reform of the EU own resources system, including the introduction of a basket of new own resources;

8. Is convinced that the current crisis should not reduce the ambition of moving towards the objective of achieving climate neutrality by 2050, requiring cutting greenhouse gas emissions by 55% compared with 1990 levels by 2030; recalls that the 2019 Emissions gap report of the United Nations environment programme (UNEP) calls for a global reduction of greenhouse gases of 7,6% each year to limit temperature rise under 1.5°C, meaning a reduction of approximately 6,8% each year at EU level ; highlights that it represents an enormous challenge notably with regard to the much needed sustainable, socially just transition, which should take into account the different starting points of the EU regions and Member States and be accompanied by massive job creation; insists that to succeed in this unprecedented challenge in only ten years, urgent action is needed, backed by a strong EU budget as of 2021;

9. Is concerned about further economic, social and political consequences of the crisis if the EU does not equip itself quickly with new and efficient tools to protect social cohesion, preserve jobs and prevent massive layoffs; welcomes in this regard the proposal for a Support to mitigate Unemployment Risks in an Emergency (SURE) programme and the commitment by the President of the Commission to present a legislative proposal for a European Unemployment Benefit Reinsurance scheme in view of an implementation as soon as possible;

...in order to provide solutions to enhanced social, environmental, economic and financial challenges

10. Welcomes the Commission's proposals for the European Green Deal and the Sustainable Europe Investment Plan;

11. Notes, however, that in order to attain the 40 % GHG emissions reduction target by 2030, and the upcoming raising of this ambition, the Commission has estimated that it will be necessary to bridge a funding gap of at least EUR 260 billion every year plus additional costs for environmental protection, resource management and social adaptation measures<sup>10</sup>; believes that in order to help reducing the EU's GHG emissions and overall carbon footprint, a carbon border adjustment mechanism (CBAM), the EU Emissions Trading System (ETS) and the EU climate law should fully contribute to a quantum leap in political and financial efforts; considers that a just transition, as an inherent part of the answer to the crisis, requires just and adequate funding;

12. Reiterates that Parliament's mandate for the MFF was set in its interim report of 14 November 2018 on ceilings, programme allocations, own resources and flexibility provisions, the mid-term revision and horizontal principles, such as mainstreaming the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and climate and gender equality; notes that the outcome of the MFF negotiations will largely determine the funding level of EU programmes for the next period and reiterates its position that commitment appropriations for the 2021-2027 period should be set at EUR 1 324.1 billion in 2018 prices, which would represent EUR 192.1 billion in current prices in commitment appropriations; underlines that major additional appropriations on top of this position are required to respond to the on-going crisis;

13. Recalls its position that the 2021-2020 MFF climate and biodiversity mainstreaming targets must go beyond the levels of targeted spending shares as set out in its interim report; therefore, aims to achieve a biodiversity spending level of 10% and the climate mainstreaming spending level of 30 % for 2021; reiterates its call on the Commission to lay down clear eligibility criteria of a new stringent and comprehensive methodology, in the form of a Framework Regulation, for defining and tracking relevant climate and biodiversity expenditure, in line with the "do no harm" principle, together with the corresponding correction measures, where relevant, and the proofing mechanism to identify potential harmful impacts of EU actions to biodiversity and climate in line with our commitments under the Paris Agreement and its call for a progressive phase-out of direct and indirect fossil fuel subsidies;

14. Supports the mobilisations and the availabilities to mobilise the funds for Research and Development to COVID 19 related measures such as the development of vaccines, new treatments, diagnostic tests and medical systems to prevent the spread of the coronavirus and save lives;

15. Strongly underlines that the Union`s climate goals require sustainable and long-term solutions; highlights the paramount role of research and development activities (R&D) to find effective, realistic, and implementable solutions for citizens, businesses and society; underlines that Horizon Europe will be the main programme to develop new solutions for climate; requests increased funding for all contributing R&D programmes, to establish the Union as a global leader for green technologies and strengthen its global competitiveness on a greater scale, diminish its dependency on foreign key technologies, become a leader in ICTs, AI and cybersecurity, develop new treatments of serious diseases such as cancer, build-up supercomputing and data processing capacities;

16. Notes with great concern that many excellent proposals for research cannot be implemented not because of their bad quality but due to significant under-funding of the programmes; stresses that research and innovation are very competitive markets with researchers being drawn to other regions of the world due to unavailable funding opportunities in Europe; underlines that the UK will move from being the main beneficiary of many Union R&D programmes to being a strong competitor; invites the Council to consider that every gap of EUR 10 billion in Horizon Europe results in a GDP loss of EUR 110 billion over the next 25 years; concludes that low budgetary ambitions for R&D would contradict any pledge favourable to competitiveness or fighting climate change, particularly regarding the efforts still ahead to match the Europe 2020 target of 3% GDP;
