Dear Mr. Mandl,

On the eve of the 10th anniversary of the declaration of the independence of the Republic of Kosovo, I have the pleasure to invite you to attend the solemn ceremony of the Assembly of Kosovo on 18 February 2018 in Prishtina. This presents an opportunity to celebrate with our friends this important occasion for the people of Kosovo.

Ten years ago, the citizens of Kosovo proved that they are strong and independent in spirit, and they have demonstrated it many times since. We have decisively overcome many challenges, defended our values and created a successful democratic and free society. This would not be possible without the strong support of the friends and partners of Kosovo like you.

In the first decade, Kosovo has marked important steps for the consolidation of its statehood both nationally and internationally. We have signed the Stabilization-Association Agreement with the European Union and have established with NATO an enhanced cooperation. These two steps have consolidated strongly our Euro-Atlantic perspective.

Kosovo is continuing to promote dialogue and good neighborly relations with all our neighbors, becoming an exporter of peace and contributing to regional stability and prosperity.

Kosovo also scored great achievements on the international stage in the field of arts, culture and sports. Our successes and achievements are the result of strong cooperation with our partners.

I look forward to welcome you in Prishtina to celebrate our joint success.
