The Week Ahead 10 – 16 June 2024

The European elections are taking place on 6 - 9 June.

The European elections are taking place on 6 - 9 June. Provisional results will be published on the European elections website on Sunday 9 June from 23.15-23.30 (CEST) (indicative time). Regular updates will follow from Monday, as information becomes available in the different EU member states, and will continue until the constitutive session of the new Parliament (16 - 19 July).

Parliament’s constitutive session for the tenth legislative term will take place on 16-19 July in Strasbourg.

Conference of Presidents. On Tuesday, the Parliament’s Conference of Presidents (EP President and leaders of the political groups) will gather for a first discussion on the outcome of the European elections.

Media briefing on election results and next steps. On Monday at 11.00, a briefing on the provisional election results and next steps - including the transition to the next parliamentary term, the election of the Commission President, and the appointment of the College of Commissioners - will take place in Parliament’s hemicycle.

Political group press conferences. Immediately following this media briefing, EP political group spokespersons will hold their own press conferences to react to the election results.

Media advisory on how to follow the European elections and details on media briefings.

President’s diary. On Wednesday, President Metsola will deliver a speech at the Commemoration of the Victims of the Soviet Mass Deportations in Brussels.

More information on the elections:

European elections press kit
European elections website

Useful contacts for journalists covering the European Parliament’s activities
THE PRESIDENT'S DIARY

The President's diary
Tuesday 11 June 2024
10:00 President Metsola presides over the Conference of Presidents meeting

The President's diary
Wednesday 12 June 2024
12:00 President Metsola delivers a speech at the Commemoration of the Victims of the Soviet Mass Deportations